

Fun and Educational Websites for Kids

There are several websites available to help educate kids of all ages in fun and entertaining ways. Below are just some examples of what's out there.

General Education

- NASA's website (<https://www.nasa.gov/>) has some great videos, space station tours, and a live feed from the Mars Rover. There is also part of the site, <https://www.nasa.gov/stem>, which is dedicated to kids.
- Here is a video from Nick Jr. sharing some at home science fun <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=TUswluuaFuY>.
- ABC Mouse is an interactive early learning academy for kids 2-8 <https://www.abcmouse.com/>. (Using this site requires a subscription.)

"Reading From Home" Presented by NJEA

- Alan from Sesame Street narrates "The Bunny Hop" <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=6RIJyw7SOJg>.
- Yvette Nicole Brown reads the Disney Story "Elena and the Secret of Aalor" <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=6RIJyw7SOJg>.

Animal Watching/Zoos

- The Smithsonian National Zoo features animal webcams showcasing their cheetah cubs, naked mole rats, lions, giant pandas, and elephants. <https://nationalzoo.si.edu/webcams>.
- This live stream from Decorah, Iowa lets you view Bald Eagles, including little eaglets that have recently hatched. <https://explore.org/livecams/bald-eagles/decorah-eagles>.
- The Cape May County Park & Zoo teaches about a different animal each day at 11:30 a.m. on their Facebook page. Then, the video appears on its site: <https://www.capemaycountynj.gov/1400/Virtual-Zoo-School>.
- The National Aquarium's site - <https://www.aqua.org/> - gives you an opportunity to tune into its Blacktip Reef, Jellies Invasion and Pacific Coral Reef livestreams and enjoy a piece of the aquarium right from your home.
- Elmwood Zoo's FaceBook page has a zoo course every weekday at 11am. Kids can ask questions during the presentation.

Exercise/Dance

- <https://www.youtube.com/user/CosmicKidsYoga> contains a series of interactive videos that teaches kids yoga, mindfulness, and meditation.
- Go Noodle's website - <https://family.gonoodle.com/> - is filled with all kinds of music, dance and exercise videos for kids. Go Noodle also has an app that is available on many Smart TVs.

